

NEWS FROM THE SUBURBS.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

YONKERS.

The Aldermen and the Mayor of Yonkers have had a disagreement over a list of nominations, and the result was that the Aldermen refused to attend the regular meeting of the Common Council down for Monday night. Several big stones were found on the track of the electric road to Mount Vernon on Valentine's Sunday, and it is supposed they were put there with intent to wreck a car. The first skating of the season is being enjoyed on the pond at Mornesmore.

At the annual meeting of the Society for the Protection of the Poor, a new plan of organization was proposed. The Yonkers society is the only one in the county, and it has more requests to take charge of cases around than it can attend to. It was proposed to organize local committees in the different towns of the county and have the executive officer of each a vice-president of the Yonkers society, who will thus have authority to act under the charter of the present society.

MOUNT VERNON.

Mrs. A. F. Jeanneret had a reception at her home No. 127 South Fourth-ave. last night. There was an exhibition of decorated china from various countries.

WESTCHESTER.

William H. Moore, who was arrested last week with members of the notorious gang which has caused so much trouble to Westchester people, says that he was not indicted for arson, but for "visiting."

NEW-JERSEY.

JERSEY CITY.

George W. Childs, a disabled veteran, was sent to the county jail yesterday by Justice Wilson, of Jersey City, to save him from freezing or starving to death. Childs is in receipt of a pension of $12 every three months, but cannot find any one to board him for that amount. An effort was made to secure admission for him to the New York Home, but the commissioners would not consent to keep him out of the almshouse, with some arrangement can be effected in his case. Childs entered Company F, 23rd Massachusetts Volunteers, December 11, 1863, and was discharged December 26, 1865. He was discharged because of total disability. The matter is to be laid before Wilson Post, G. A. R., when it is expected that provision will be made for Childs in some way.

There was something akin to a "surprise party" at the Hudson County jail yesterday. The last Grand Jury made presentment of the fact that prisoners were often held from term to term, though not indicted, until compelled to plead with their attorneys at the trial, and the grand jury, in its report, recommended that it was alleged, to create fees. Sheriff Toffey's new jury found six prisoners held for assault or larceny, none of whom had been indicted, although they had been convicted by the record, and recommended that the New Jersey court of common pleas should discharge them. The New Jersey court had looked over the evidence, and, finding that it would not warrant conviction, the Grand Jury went in body to the jail and ordered the six prisoners set at liberty. Some of them had been in jail three months, the cost to the taxpayers being thirty cents a day each.

NEWARK.

In the Vice-Chancellor's Court at Newark, yesterday, Aaron G. Sayre was appointed receiver of the Ready Telephone Index Company, of Newark, on application by counsel for the Holbrook Printing Company of Newark.

Edmund C. Holmes, attorney of McWhirter & Wilson, who were defrauded, were called on Monday, and busy yesterday taking account of stock to learn the value of the assets for the information of the creditors. The assets are now estimated value of $100,000, but may be far more of that amount. If the assignee's report is favorable, the concern will probably be allowed to resume business.

NEW-BRUNSWICK.

An explosion occurred at noon yesterday in the varnish-house of the New-Brunswick plant of the United States Rubber Company, by which three employees were badly burned. Their names are George Schlosser, William Souer and John Greiger. Schlosser is assistant superintendent of the factory, and was director in a large varnish in a large vat. The linseed oil, sulphur and other mixtures were thought to be at the proper temperature for the application of benzine, which was stored in a steel tank bearing a frieze two feet high, fastened along the front with laurel wreaths, and a mass of entwining stalks bearing the fleur de lis, the emblem of

President Martin asked Commissioner Sheehan to prepare an estimate of the cost of providing and to maintain patrol wagons in ten of the police precincts. He said it might be well to have patrol wagons in use at stations where female prisoners were locked up. The Commissioners will have a Board of Estimate and Appropriation meet on that subject when the estimates for the police appropriation for 1894 come up for final examination.

HERE'S A DIFFERENCE in Music Boxes, as there is in Pianos—a difference in tone and execution, a difference in quality and durability.

There's fifty years of reputation behind every Music Box we make, and every one is as nearly perfect as musical and mechanical genius can make it.

The Gloria Interchangeable—our latest production—has already won a favored position among all automatic instruments.

It will last a generation, needs no tuning, and is ready at a touch to play any selection you choose.

SPECIAL SALE WHILE THEY LAST.

Six-Acre Music Box with Bells, $15.

M. T. PAILLARD & CO.,

680 BROADWAY.

the club. The entire personality is in pure white. Behind this is a broad counterpane, and still further back are the booths, also in white. Among those taking part are Mrs. Frank Q. Barstow, Charles Wiley, Mrs. George Richards, F. Q. Barstow, Mrs. William B. Dillon, Dr. Prichard, Mrs. Charles L. Miller, Dr. P. D. Pease, Mr. Hotchkiss, Mrs. Ward Wallis, Sidney M. Colgate, Mrs. F. E. Gelatty, George T. Boggs, Mrs. Edward Hooper, Mrs. George W. Thompson, Dr. Palmer, Dr. T. N. Gray, T. P. Dixey, J. D. Flock, H. A. Potter, George Richards, Dr. D. O. Quigley and Dr. B. Dixey. The fair will open every afternoon and evening, from 3 to 10 p. m., until Friday night.

THE ENGAGEMENT FEAST BROKEN UP.

DIEZENBRUCK'S WIFE CAME HERE FROM AUSTRIA JUST IN TIME—THE BELLS OF SHERIFF-ST. DISAPPOINTED.

Pincus Diezenbruck was one of the happiest men in Sheriff-st. a week ago. To-day he is a miserable wretch, dodging from the chance sight of any acquaintance. Pincus was happy over his approaching marriage to Yetta Levine, a young woman of surpassing beauty. The engagement ceremony was announced to take place last Sunday, at No. 36 Sheriff-st.

Pincus came to this country three years ago from Austria. He said he was single, worked hard and saved his money. He was about thirty years old, and soon began to woo Yetta Levine, the belle of Sheriff-st., with great ardor.

Last Saturday an acquaintance of Pincus named Rubin went to Ellis Island to get his wife, who had just come from Europe. In the dock he met Rubin with a woman that he had known long ago in the old country. Her name was Annette, and she said she came in search of her husband, Pincus Diezenbruck, who left her three years ago. Rubin was astonished to learn that his wife was a married woman around him. His imagination was too strong to let him believe that the woman he had forgotten had forgotten him. He wrote to the committee to see that the man had forgotten his wife, and was about to deceivously worthy spouse, and then testified to being brutally treated in the bath-room.

SERVICE IN MEMORY OF DR. DEEMS.

A service in memory of the Rev. Dr. Charles F. Deems, pastor of the Church of the Strangers, will be held in the church to-morrow at 8 p. m. The Rev. Mr. Hodson, acting pastor of the church, will preside, and Chas. W. M. McDonald, Secretary of the New York Board of Missions, Dr. George Gillette, Superintendent of the institution, and John R. Stanchfield, who appears as counsel for the officers of the reformatory, will preside.

The witnesses called to give the presence of their counsel, the Rev. Dr. Elmer E. Eaton, Dr. Charles L. Williams and Isaac H. Bromley.

Porter Charles Wahl, 441 Madison-ave., and his wife wrote letters to the committee several weeks ago of various matters. Several inmates then testified to being brutally treated in the bath-room.

LOTUS SUPPER FOR HENRY IRVING.

Henry Irving will be the guest of the Lotus Club at a supper to be given in the clubroom, No. 55 Fifth-ave., on Saturday evening. The guests will be the members of the committee. Chairman Craig Morris, Dr. Stephen Smithies of New-York, and Edward W. Nichols, of Brooklyn, will be present, and the others present included Assistant Secretary Fanning, Dr. S. B. Bond, Dr. Charles D. Tammie, George Gillette, Superintendent of the New York Board of Missions, and John R. Stanchfield, who appears as counsel for the officers of the reformatory.

The witness called to give the presence of their counsel, the Rev. Dr. Elmer E. Eaton, Dr. Charles L. Williams and Isaac H. Bromley.

Porter Charles Wahl, 441 Madison-ave., and his wife wrote letters to the committee several weeks ago of various matters. Several inmates then testified to being brutally treated in the bath-room.

A SICK POLICE SERGEANT RETIRED.

The Police Commissioners, at their meeting yesterday, retired Sergeant Edward Muret on half pay at his own request. He has been too sick to perform duty for almost a year, and there have been several complaints that he had refused to pass his debts. Sergeant Hugh Clark was transferred from the Fifth-st. station to the Bureau of Information at the Central Office. At the request of Captain H. H. Murphy, he was made a detective at the Fifth-st. station, and Charles M. McDonald, a sergeant at the station in West Thirtieth-st., but the request was denied on the ground that McDonald did not have a good record and Jeromean had been a persistent troublemaker.

President Martin asked Commissioner Sheehan to prepare an estimate of the cost of providing and

to maintain patrol wagons in ten of the police

precincts.

The Police Commissioners, at their meeting yesterday, retired Sergeant Edward Muret on half pay at his own request. He has been too sick to perform duty for almost a year, and there have been several complaints that he had refused to pass his debts. Sergeant Hugh Clark was transferred from the Fifth-st. station to the Bureau of Information at the Central Office. At the request of Captain H. H. Murphy, he was made a detective at the Fifth-st. station, and Charles M. McDonald, a sergeant at the station in West Thirtieth-st., but the request was denied on the ground that McDonald did not have a good record and Jeromean had been a persistent troublemaker.

President Martin asked Commissioner Sheehan to prepare an estimate of the cost of providing and

to maintain patrol wagons in ten of the police

precincts.

The Police Commissioners, at their meeting yesterday, retired Sergeant Edward Muret on half pay at his own request. He has been too sick to perform duty for almost a year, and there have been several complaints that he had refused to pass his debts. Sergeant Hugh Clark was transferred from the Fifth-st. station to the Bureau of Information at the Central Office. At the request of Captain H. H. Murphy, he was made a detective at the Fifth-st. station, and Charles M. McDonald, a sergeant at the station in West Thirtieth-st., but the request was denied on the ground that McDonald did not have a good record and Jeromean had been a persistent troublemaker.

President Martin asked Commissioner Sheehan to prepare an estimate of the cost of providing and

to maintain patrol wagons in ten of the police

precincts.

The Police Commissioners, at their meeting yesterday, retired Sergeant Edward Muret on half pay at his own request. He has been too sick to perform duty for almost a year, and there have been several complaints that he had refused to pass his debts. Sergeant Hugh Clark was transferred from the Fifth-st. station to the Bureau of Information at the Central Office. At the request of Captain H. H. Murphy, he was made a detective at the Fifth-st. station, and Charles M. McDonald, a sergeant at the station in West Thirtieth-st., but the request was denied on the ground that McDonald did not have a good record and Jeromean had been a persistent troublemaker.

President Martin asked Commissioner Sheehan to prepare an estimate of the cost of providing and

to maintain patrol wagons in ten of the police

precincts.

The Police Commissioners, at their meeting yesterday, retired Sergeant Edward Muret on half pay at his own request. He has been too sick to perform duty for almost a year, and there have been several complaints that he had refused to pass his debts. Sergeant Hugh Clark was transferred from the Fifth-st. station to the Bureau of Information at the Central Office. At the request of Captain H. H. Murphy, he was made a detective at the Fifth-st. station, and Charles M. McDonald, a sergeant at the station in West Thirtieth-st., but the request was denied on the ground that McDonald did not have a good record and Jeromean had been a persistent troublemaker.

President Martin asked Commissioner Sheehan to prepare an estimate of the cost of providing and

to maintain patrol wagons in ten of the police

precincts.

The Police Commissioners, at their meeting yesterday, retired Sergeant Edward Muret on half pay at his own request. He has been too sick to perform duty for almost a year, and there have been several complaints that he had refused to pass his debts. Sergeant Hugh Clark was transferred from the Fifth-st. station to the Bureau of Information at the Central Office. At the request of Captain H. H. Murphy, he was made a detective at the Fifth-st. station, and Charles M. McDonald, a sergeant at the station in West Thirtieth-st., but the request was denied on the ground that McDonald did not have a good record and Jeromean had been a persistent troublemaker.

President Martin asked Commissioner Sheehan to prepare an estimate of the cost of providing and

to maintain patrol wagons in ten of the police

precincts.

The Police Commissioners, at their meeting yesterday, retired Sergeant Edward Muret on half pay at his own request. He has been too sick to perform duty for almost a year, and there have been several complaints that he had refused to pass his debts. Sergeant Hugh Clark was transferred from the Fifth-st. station to the Bureau of Information at the Central Office. At the request of Captain H. H. Murphy, he was made a detective at the Fifth-st. station, and Charles M. McDonald, a sergeant at the station in West Thirtieth-st., but the request was denied on the ground that McDonald did not have a good record and Jeromean had been a persistent troublemaker.

President Martin asked Commissioner Sheehan to prepare an estimate of the cost of providing and

to maintain patrol wagons in ten of the police

precincts.

The Police Commissioners, at their meeting yesterday, retired Sergeant Edward Muret on half pay at his own request. He has been too sick to perform duty for almost a year, and there have been several complaints that he had refused to pass his debts. Sergeant Hugh Clark was transferred from the Fifth-st. station to the Bureau of Information at the Central Office. At the request of Captain H. H. Murphy, he was made a detective at the Fifth-st. station, and Charles M. McDonald, a sergeant at the station in West Thirtieth-st., but the request was denied on the ground that McDonald did not have a good record and Jeromean had been a persistent troublemaker.

President Martin asked Commissioner Sheehan to prepare an estimate of the cost of providing and

to maintain patrol wagons in ten of the police

precincts.

The Police Commissioners, at their meeting yesterday, retired Sergeant Edward Muret on half pay at his own request. He has been too sick to perform duty for almost a year, and there have been several complaints that he had refused to pass his debts. Sergeant Hugh Clark was transferred from the Fifth-st. station to the Bureau of Information at the Central Office. At the request of Captain H. H. Murphy, he was made a detective at the Fifth-st. station, and Charles M. McDonald, a sergeant at the station in West Thirtieth-st., but the request was denied on the ground that McDonald did not have a good record and Jeromean had been a persistent troublemaker.

President Martin asked Commissioner Sheehan to prepare an estimate of the cost of providing and

to maintain patrol wagons in ten of the police

precincts.

The Police Commissioners, at their meeting yesterday, retired Sergeant Edward Muret on half pay at his own request. He has been too sick to perform duty for almost a year, and there have been several complaints that he had refused to pass his debts. Sergeant Hugh Clark was transferred from the Fifth-st. station to the Bureau of Information at the Central Office. At the request of Captain H. H. Murphy, he was made a detective at the Fifth-st. station, and Charles M. McDonald, a sergeant at the station in West Thirtieth-st., but the request was denied on the ground that McDonald did not have a good record and Jeromean had been a persistent troublemaker.

President Martin asked Commissioner Sheehan to prepare an estimate of the cost of providing and

to maintain patrol wagons in ten of the police

precincts.

The Police Commissioners, at their meeting yesterday, retired Sergeant Edward Muret on half pay at his own request. He has been too sick to perform duty for almost a year, and there have been several complaints that he had refused to pass his debts. Sergeant Hugh Clark was transferred from the Fifth-st. station to the Bureau of Information at the Central Office. At the request of Captain H. H. Murphy, he was made a detective at the Fifth-st. station, and Charles M. McDonald, a sergeant at the station in West Thirtieth-st., but the request was denied on the ground that McDonald did not have a good record and Jeromean had been a persistent troublemaker.

President Martin asked Commissioner Sheehan to prepare an estimate of the cost of providing and

to maintain patrol wagons in ten of the police

precincts.

The Police Commissioners, at their meeting yesterday, retired Sergeant Edward Muret on half pay at his own request. He has been too sick to perform duty for almost a year, and there have been several complaints that he had refused to pass his debts. Sergeant Hugh Clark was transferred from the Fifth-st. station to the Bureau of Information at the Central Office. At the request of Captain H. H. Murphy, he was made a detective at the Fifth-st. station, and Charles M. McDonald, a sergeant at the station in West Thirtieth-st., but the request was denied on the ground that McDonald did not have a good record and Jeromean had been a persistent troublemaker.

President Martin asked Commissioner Sheehan to prepare an estimate of the cost of providing and

to maintain patrol wagons in ten of the police

precincts.

The Police Commissioners, at their meeting yesterday, retired Sergeant Edward Muret on half pay at his own request. He has been too sick to perform duty for almost a year, and there have been several complaints that he had refused to pass his debts. Sergeant Hugh Clark was transferred from the Fifth-st. station to the Bureau of Information at the Central Office. At the request of Captain H. H. Murphy, he was made a detective at the Fifth-st. station, and Charles M. McDonald, a sergeant at the station in West Thirtieth-st., but the request was denied on the ground that McDonald did not have a good record and Jeromean had been a persistent troublemaker.

President Martin asked Commissioner Sheehan to prepare an estimate of the cost of providing and

to maintain patrol wagons in ten of the police

precincts.

The Police Commissioners, at their meeting yesterday, retired Sergeant Edward Muret on half pay at his own request. He has been too sick to perform duty for almost a year, and there have been several complaints that he had refused to pass his debts. Sergeant Hugh Clark was transferred from the Fifth-st. station to the Bureau of Information at the Central Office. At the request of Captain H. H. Murphy, he was made a detective at the Fifth-st. station, and Charles M.